Fun Office Activities

If you enjoyed yesterday's ideas then you're in luck because here are some more fun workplace activities:

1. Toilet Paper

Believe it or not, a roll of toilet paper is an opportunity to have fun and bond with colleagues. Pass a loo roll around the office with the instruction that each person must take as much as they think they will need. Only once everyone has their toilet paper should you inform them that, for each square of toilet paper, they need to share something about themselves.

2. Desk Dress Up

Set a day and a theme for each person in the office to dress-up or decorate their desks. Make it a competition with a prize for the winner.

3. Singing

And by this we mean good old-fashioned karaoke. What could be more fun than karaoke? Give prizes for the best and worst performers.

Stand a chance to win your share of R300 000
